Privacy Policy

Glen Eyrie is aware of the power of the internet and we want you to know we take your privacy on our site seriously. We want you to enjoy your internet experience online with us and know we will do our part to protect your privacy when you are on Glen Eyrie and related sites. Glen Eyrie is part of a larger organization called The Navigators. For 75 years, this interdenominational, nonprofit organization, has come along side of people from all over the world to study the Bible, develop a deepening prayer life, and memorize and apply Scripture. There are many components to our bigger organization and in all aspects of any of our sites we will maintain the privacy of your information. Please check the privacy policies of each related site. Please note the Glen Eyrie privacy policies below:

We do collect basic information through the use of cookies with each visit. This includes which pages are visited, types of products purchased, and any feedback you may offer. This information helps us improve our site to make your experience on the site as valuable and efficient as possible.

We do not and will not rent, trade, or exchange your email address with anyone outside of the Glen Eyrie/Navigators family.

You can opt-in to additional services or opt-out of any services at any time. We only want to provide the information you want to see.

The Navigators® Terms of Use and Privacy Statement

The Navigators' website is offered to the user on the condition of acceptance without modification of the terms, conditions, and notices contained herein. Use of The Navigators' website constitutes agreement to all such terms, conditions, and notices.

All information contained on this website or in The Navigators' magazines, books and other materials or products, such as text, graphics, illustrations, logos, etc., are copyrighted by and proprietary to The Navigators and may not be reproduced into any medium or translated in whole or in part by individuals, organizations, or corporations. Navigators' material(s) and/or products(s) may not be bundled or sold with other materials(s) and/or product(s), used in any derivative work(s), or used in connection with any fundraising activities without prior written express permission.

Granting permissions is at the sole discretion of The Navigators Corporate Affairs, Communications, or NavPress departments. Written permission must be obtained prior to using, translating, reproducing, publishing, or redistributing the material(s) and/or products(s).

Individual(s) may download a single copy of The Navigators' materials located under "Articles and Tips" and "Devotionals" for informational, educational, non-commercial, personal study and without alteration. The materials may be used only in the format in which The Navigators' organization makes them available on the website. The information may not be posted on other websites or servers and excerpts or portions of one or more of The Navigators' materials may not be used or posted for promotional purposes without prior written permission. Access to The Navigators' material(s) and/or products or the contents may be made by a hyperlink to www.Navigators.org.

Up to 15 copies each of The Wheel®, Word Hand, Prayer Hand or The Bridge to Life illustrations found on www.Navigators.org may be copied and redistributed for Sunday school classes, or other non-commercial study with others without prior written permission. All copies of these illustrations must retain all copyrights, trademarks, and other proprietary notices, must not be modified in any way, must not be incorporated in another work, and must not be used in such a way as indicates or implies an association of the user with The Navigators. The illustrations may not be bundled or sold with other material(s) and/or product(s), used in any derivative works, or used in connection with any fundraising activities without prior written express permission.

Distribution Permission

Other than the exceptions described, written permission must be obtained prior to redistribution of any copies. The permission request must include the following: name of requesting individual/entity/company, physical address, e-mail address, contact number, number of exact copies requested, title of the specific Navigators' illustration(s) or work requested, purpose of request, area/community to which copies will be redistributed, timeline of redistribution, cost assessed (if any), projected sale price (if any), and a .pdf version of the proposed product. The Navigators will not grant non-specific requests.
